Motion for Sanctions

Comes now petitioner, Marcus Ellis, filing pro se, and request that this court impose sanctions on the respondent. In support the petitioner states the following:

- (1). The respondent has failed to answer to the court deadline for a second time.

1) Imposition of sanctions on the respondent.

The court has ordered the respondent to answer to the petitioner claim on, or before June 25, 2012 and the respondent has not 'timely' responded. On August 15, 2012 the court had ordered the respondent (for a second time) to answer to the petitioner claim on, or before Sep-7-2012, and the respondent has not timely responded.

It has been a total of 130 days since the respondent has been given notice to respond to the petitioner claim. The court has given the respondent fair notice that 'sanctions' may be imposed if the respondent does not meet the court deadline.

There is 'no excuse' for the failure to timely respond because the respondent knew about the courts deadline for a total of four(4) months, and more.

The petitioner asks this court to impose the 'forfeiture' rule against respondent that is in the petitioner 'forfeiture motion'. And that the court rule that the respondent forfeited any argument to the petitioner claim.

Note: If the respondent ask this court for an extension of time, or if the respondent tries to give an excuse for his ~~is~~ forfeiture, then the petitioner will like to respond. Thank You.

Conclusion

That this motion be granted.
